Police say a vehicle burglary happened about 8:40 a.m. Saturday on the 2300 block of Georgia Avenue. As officers were investigating, they happened across a man walking along the street with several laptops in a laundry bag. Officers stopped the man, and he said he was walking out of the business to take a shower when he heard a person inside the business screaming for help, according to the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department. Inside the business, officers found a female who said a man had broken into the vehicle and stole a gun. The woman told police she had been sleeping in the back of the car when she woke to a noise. She then saw a man pull a gun on her and told him to leave the car. The suspect went into the business, got a bag from a back room and took a laptop and went into a house on Georgia Avenue. Police arrested the man in the burglary. He faces charges of burglary with a deadly weapon, robbery with a deadly weapon, theft with a firearm and possession of a stolen firearm.Q: How can I buy a used emergency room portable defibrillator? I'm a 26 year old single woman working in an ER. I'm in the process of buying a new defibrillator (AED) and I'm just wondering about the options with regards to buying used. How much can I expect to pay for a used defibrillator? How safe is it to buy a used defibrillator online? How does it affect resale value? The machine I'm looking at costs $450, with either a USB or serial port (ECG optional). A: Here are some possible places to look for one of these: Craigslist Local community ebay site Local community forums Local charity sites The goal of this is to facilitate peer-to-peer transactions. It might be better than hitting up a megainstitution run by whomever is in charge of that capital budget for
