But I've spent all my money on the game. I can't even play a game. I just bought a ticket and waited for her at the theater... It was like in the movies. Love at first sight. But... I won't live out the rest of my life without her. "It's time to put my hands together with my love and ask her for forgiveness!" I felt a pain in my heart. It's all over. I'm about to die. If you want to play this MMO but not play, are tired of MMO's. Want to have tons of other people in the same zone and have a remote server to play with, pay attention. I'm not a huge fan of the trend of sometimes, all users in the same server are clones with the same stuff. No separate user account, same user score, same user rating, etc. I have this idea that when you log on, you have the ability to build your own user by modeling a person, and giving them a name. Then they will start out with everything you have, and you can make your own play style on your server in terms of events, missions, and tasks that you want to test out for revenue. I don't want to play with bots, anyone that plays WoW are probably bots. I want an experienced player to play with me. Unlike WoW, I don't want to spend hundreds of hours in level 80-90 just to solo quest with no friends. Instead I want to solo quest with some friends after a 3/4 year hiatus. I want to be able to talk to everyone, and able to talk to other players in real time. This means no server downtime during a mission. Also no downtime for patching or content updates. I realize that this is going to take a lot of server maintenance and take up some server processor cycles. I'm willing to put in the time, and I want this to be the next big MMO after World of Warcraft leaves us. So I'm willing to put in the time, and I'm willing to pay for the server maintenance to have this thing happen. If the server is broken, I'm willing to put up a billboard which says: "We have no money to fix the server. We will not start a new server until we can pay someone to fix this one." If anyone has any better ideas how this can be accomplished, tell me because there are over 140 million people in this world without MMO's. If someone wants to play this, they have to live in this city and pay for the server upgrades. They have to join the economy by selling or buying a building, just like in the real world. If they don't pay, the server shuts down again. Their c9d1549cdd
