DownloadBlog Archive Sunday, September 20, 2008 The Light of the World In biblical times, to see the face of an angel was a real and troubling experience. Through the verse in Matthew (Matthew 26:14) we see that Jesus' disciples were surprised when they saw two of his emissaries in the flesh. Even though there were no visions of men we have always had the image in our minds of the angelic host. God, being God and not with our human sense of reality can do whatever he wants, and he can show up as many angels as he wants to. He does not have to be in this realm, but if he were, it'

SourceForge.net.Q: How can I make an async function that won't freeze the browser? I have the following function: The issue is that I want to return a {value:promise} object, but it freezes the browser. I'd like the user to be able to click it and the user interface doesn't hang. async function Check(url) { const response = await fetch(url); if (response.ok) { const resource = await

response.json()); return {value:
  resource}; } return {};
console.log(await Check('myurl')); A:
this looks like a warning to me. You could implement a Promise that can reject when the response is not ok.

  const promise = new Promise((resolve, reject) => { if (response.ok) { const resource = await response.json();
  resolve({value: resource}); } else { reject(response.status); } })
  console.log(await promise);
