FunGames... Guildies! Hot off our Test servers for Americas, we are ready to unleash your new home on Americas! It's been a few weeks and we've got tons of new stuff waiting for you, so let's dive in! We will be pushing updates first to Test servers, then Americas servers. We'll make sure you get to play test stuff on our Test servers for local feedback before rolling it out. There is still a few weeks to go before we release. You may see a few bugs so please don't get too worked up about them. We can apply fix after the release. Where to Start in Americas There are lots of things to do in Americas. This is the first time we've gone live, but we're still putting the finishing touches and details on it. Do note this post is written with all of the Test and Beta areas. We will be updating it with new information as it comes. Welcome Home! This is a welcome to the Americas server. I'll start with the map! The largest of the three Americas Map is now live, and is pretty much what you'd expect from its enormous size. One thing that is new is the increased map size, making it easier to get from place to place and better accommodate server sizes, but this will not affect any of your existing connections. We've been super excited to get our coverage started on Americas and had a blast exploring it the last couple of weeks. We're in the early stages of bringing this server to life in a lot of ways, still lots to do, but we've locked down a lot of the bugs and can start to focus on adding polish and new items. Shipyard Novab, an Army shipyard is the beginning of your City. Merchants can sell wares or go to the city marketplace to buy things. Try to grow a homeport in the shipyards. One thing to note is that the shops cannot be built in the center of the cities. We made the decision to put the shops in the Interiors package and only in city outskirts. This will create the lawfulness of playing the economy. If you want to have a full out Oiljacked shipyard, it will take a lot of time and resources. If you want to just have a garage or

Survive the Nights is a fast-paced, casual, zombie-killing shooter game with physics, broken glass, breakable objects and more. You can see the 3D world as if you were standing next to the camera, or simply teleport around the room. There are dozens of VR games available for the Oculus Rift, but very few of them were designed to be played in a shared space, such as a living room. There are two ways of playing: -The "Best View" is designed for 3 players. It lets each player see a full 360 degrees (frontal view). Each player has their own viewpoint, which will be the same as you if you would play the game in a cockpit (eg. with a desk in between you and the monitor). -The "Teleport" mode allows you to teleport around the room. You can teleport anywhere in the room, but it is recommended to keep the camera as close to the middle as possible. You could play a 2-player game using this mode. There is a strong similarity between the Oculus Rift and Pokemon Go, but while Pokemon Go is focused on games that could be played at anytime anywhere, this game is intended for specific social situations (eg. when you do not have a lot of time for intensive gaming). The game can be played in the simulated Google Cardboard as well. This is a finished VR game built using the HTC Vive as a head mounted display. Each player has their own viewpoint, which will be the same as you if you would play the game in a cockpit (eg. with a desk in between you and the monitor).
