Patient safety initiatives have identified three main areas that can be improved in the provision of acute care: medication errors, readmissions, and adverse events. In this article, the authors describe efforts by the management of a large medical center to improve quality of life during the discharge process by implementing an evidence-based discharge bundle. The bundle was designed to reduce hospital stays and improve the quality of patient care. The bundle comprised various components, including bedside notification of discharge plans, a medication review at the time of discharge, using a discharge summary to update records, and telephone follow-up within 1 week of discharge. Significant changes were seen in the patient readmission rate, length of hospitalization, and cost savings for patients who were included in the bundle.List of MPs elected in the 2005 United Kingdom general election This is a list of MPs elected to the House of Commons in the 2005 United Kingdom general election. Composition MPs elected This lists MPs elected to the House of Commons of the United Kingdom at the 2005 general election, by party. The final results were: Changes in government The Conservative Party formed a minority government with the support of three other parties, led by Prime Minister Tony Blair, with Liberal Democrat leader Charles Kennedy and Labour Party leader David Cameron as deputy prime ministers. The Conservatives had won 426 seats and formed a coalition government with the support of the Liberal Democrats and Plaid Cymru. Former Liberal Democrat leader Charles Kennedy formed a Labour-Liberal Democrat-Plaid Cymru coalition government. As a result of the election, 17 Conservative MPs were elected in Liberal Democrat seats and 16 Labour MPs were elected in Liberal Democrat seats. The Conservatives gained Labour seats in the north of England and Scotland. This resulted in the loss of four Scottish seats to the Conservatives, and one of the four to Labour. The remaining seat in Scotland was lost to the Liberal Democrats, who regained seats from Labour across Scotland. Following the
