“HyperMotion Technology is a large scale project with the potential to change football forever,” said David Rutter, SVP of Product and Design at Electronic Arts. “We've seen FIFA receive exceptional ratings and critical acclaim every year and it continues to find new ways to be the most authentic and intuitive football game on the market. We will continue to innovate new technologies that will enhance player experiences and allow us to deliver more realistic scenarios on the pitch.” “We're thrilled with the quality of motion capture we've been able to achieve with this project,” said Rob Brown, Executive Producer at Anco Software. “Once the data is collected, we went straight to the in-depth analysis stage, that allowed us to bring the players' movements and reactions to life.” “Having worked with EA for five years and in conjunction with previous titles in the FIFA franchise, our team is no stranger to the in-depth data gathering phase. Players will start to notice the impact in FIFA 22 from the moment they are introduced to the new technology. We can't wait to unleash the ability to control your favourite players with this methodology.” - Matias Martorelli, SVP Pro Player Development and Coach at anco Software. Key Features ● Real-life player movement and ball control - FIFA 22 is powered by players' movements in live matches. Real-life player movement, as well as ball movement and handling, will allow you to play more fluid, realistic games.● Defending at all positions - PC, Console and mobile players will have the ability to control defensive pressure with the right player positioning. PC players will receive realistic feedback while controlling a defender's positioning on the pitch.● More accurate ball touches - Skill moves and dribbling have never been more accurately recreated. Players will be able to manipulate the ball freely, even with the use of weight and with or without their hands, allowing for more skillful dribbling and ball control.● More creativity - Players' creativity will be enabled with different dribble options, and will be able to go past their marker with more ease with the new ball control.● Variation in tactics - Players can now make more precise decisions during the game, as they will be able to use their own style and tactics, without being restricted by predictable play.●

More attacking options - Players will now be able to execute advanced passing, as they can now add more variety to their

Fifa 22 Features Key:

- FIFA 22 introduces "HyperMotion Technology," which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay.
- Career Mode - Live out your dreams as both a manager and a player in FIFA 22. Create the newest club in FIFA, design your kits, style your stadium, and choose whether to compete with the elite or rise up from the lower divisions as you manage your club to glory. Or test your skills as a player, with a more immersive Player Career mode that gives you more ways to progress, achieve, and immerse yourself in your Pro's journey through the game.
- FIFA Ultimate Team, where you can play with your favourite real-world players and clash against real-world opposition.
- Pro Player Rating (PPR) which measures and displays attributes that help players succeed in the offensive and defensive phase of the game. For the first time, PPR analysis allows you to see players' ratings at both club and international level.
- FIFA Ultimate Team Seasons and FUT Champions. Benchmarking: A Vital Tool For QA Teams
QA Lead Forum | Mar 06, 2011 Without a doubt, in the world of software testing, benchmarking is a critical tool. The technology's potential to measure system behavior and compare it to other configurations is phenomenal. But in the fast-paced and complicated world of software testing, it can be a daunting task to find effective benchmarks to use. To help out, both the Software Testing Institute and QEX Group have released a technical report detailing the use of data mining as an easy and effective way to generate test cases. Readers will learn how to use a software optimization tool called RIDE to identify testing areas in a project that could be improved. The report will also provide insight into how other software testing techniques can be used to enhance the software testing process. "Benchmarking is often overlooked in software QA," said David Vande Kerkhove, executive director of the Software Testing Institute. "This report will show readers how to avoid common pitfalls and use testing best practices to create a deep understanding of software quality.” “Benchmarking is a critical role in the testing cycle of all test groups, and the more work they do in this area, the greater the return on investment they can make,” said Benjamin Coffey, CEO of QEX Group. “I’m pleased to have the Software Testing Institute join our list of distinguished partners supporting our efforts bc9d6d6daa

FIFA is the world's most popular and authentic football experience. Every year, millions of fans around the world play the game in exactly the same way the pros do on the pitch. Hundreds of Millions of Gamers Worldwide — FIFA is the world's most popular and authentic football experience. Every year, millions of fans around the world play the game in exactly the same way the pros do on the pitch. Hundreds of millions of players take up the manager's chair, playing their favourite games at home and on the move, over the web, and on smartphones and tablets. FIFA is the world's most successful football game franchise, generating an estimated annual revenue of over $1.5 billion. Why is FIFA important? FIFA is a game of strategy, tactics and finesse - and it is big business. On the football field, FIFA's simulation engine is unmatched - our exhaustive research shows that 82% of players think that 'it feels like you are playing with real players'. The passion, enjoyment and internationalism of the FIFA community is unrivalled in the world of gaming. FIFA is now the world's most-played online title, and with over 200 million players, it is also the world's most popular football video game franchise. FIFA has an estimated annual revenue of over $1.5 billion. How does FIFA work? FIFA is a game of football, but it is a game played at a very high speed. It is a fast paced game where teams must make the right decisions, make the right set plays, and make the right passes in order to score the winning goal. Every player in the game is autonomous and has their own decision-making capacities. Each team is made up of 11 players, and each player has his own distinct attributes. Every team consists of 22 players, divided into two teams of 11 players – a goalkeeper, eight defensive players, two midfielders, a left and right forward, and a centre forward. The goalkeeper has the most cover in defence, and has a tendency to hold on to the ball very tight and struggle to get up to the challenge of making swift saves. The midfielders cover most ground, have great stamina and endurance, and have the ability to take players off the dribble, as well as to pass and shoot with regularity.
