CES 2018 – Attendee List Here » Las Vegas, USA, January 7-10, 2018 FIFA World Cup™ 2018 | Watch on FOX Aug. 16, 2018 FIFA World Cup™ 2018 will mark the 20th consecutive time that the FIFA World Cup™ has been held in rotation among the host nations. It will be the first time in history that the FIFA World Cup™ will be held in three countries with Russia, Qatar and UAE hosting the competition over a period of 14 years. The three hosts will play against one another in the same group in Russia. The tournament will feature 16 groups of four teams, the number of groups having been expanded in response to feedback from fans, players and the media. FIFA World Cup™ 2018: Official Trailer | Watch on YouTube FIFA 18: Career Mode to feature new tracking system that tracks actions, not individuals, unlike last year's 'Man-Tracking' system In FIFA 18, the new tracking system called "Team Player Tracking" will allow the player to track the player they are controlling. This means that you will no longer need to track an entire team (as you would in Career Mode) and the FIFA World Cup™ will feature an enhanced level of player authenticity. FIFA 18: New tracking systems in Career Mode promise to make your player more authentic Aug. 23, 2017 The Skill Games will be returning as a brand new feature of FIFA 18. The Skill Games include two modes: Free Kick and Premier Pass. In Free Kick mode, players will be able to create their own set of skills with the new "Try Something New" feature, which has been completely revamped and is easy to use. In addition, the "Try something New" feature will give the player more control over how they compete in skills games, via the feature's newly introduced new "training ratings" system that reflects their improving game skill. FIFA 18: The Skill Games launching in FIFA 18's 'Free Kick' mode Aug. 16, 2017 FIFA 18 releases on Thursday, September 27, for Xbox One, PlayStation 4, Xbox 360 and PlayStation
