What is it? A game where players take on the role of a character known as an “Elden Lord” and are tasked to avenge your ancestors and the Elden Ring Cracked Version. What is the world? A world of fantasy and myth that has been abandoned by the creator god due to the rise of evil. At a mere age of 20, the world is inhabited by a strange race of Elden Lords called “Guardians”. A special item called an “Elden Ring” has been passed down to them. What kind of game is it? A linear and chronological fantasy action RPG. The main story of the game unfolds as you experience the actions of the Guardians over a period of 20 years. What kind of setting is it? An RPG set in an ancient fantasy world. In this game, players assume the role of a Guardian, an Elden Lord destined to stand up to protect the Elves, who have been forgotten by the gods, and the Lands Between, a world between the universe and the world of gods. What kind of environment is it? A fantasy world that’s full of unpredictable dangers that lie in wait. The game places a great emphasis on the importance of unit tactics and the function of the game world, resulting in a drastic change in the flow of battle. What kind of action is it? An action game in which players control a character equipped with weapons and a selection of magic. As you fight, you’ll make use of the skills and characters that you’ve developed as you explore the vast world. What kind of RPG is it? A fantasy RPG that places a particular focus on collecting and upgrading materials, magic, and character development. What kind of play style is it? A game that thrives on fast and intense action and provides a high sense of challenge. What kind of game is it? A fantasy game that has players explore an RPG world and battle against an enemy. You’ll have to make a decision during battles as to which of your characters will act first and which of your units will act last. In addition, you’ll be able to take advantage of the functions that appear during your battle. What kind of story is it? A story is one that is told in short scenes. The story of Guardians is seen in

Q: Objective-C: Padding or Overlapping Text in UITextField I have a UITextField that displays a list of contact names, like so: I'd like to be able to enter a few letters into the text field, then have it display what was in the text field, like so: If I use the UITextField's "Clear" button to remove the current contents, it removes the current contents, but leaves a blank UITextField. Is there a way for me to specify padding or overlap between the text entered and the view of the UITextField? I imagine this would be done by adjusting the layout of the text field (but I haven't found anything that specifies this) or in code (but I can't find anything that allows me to set the layout of the text field programmatically). I tried using `setEditable:`, but the text field no longer becomes editable when it is first created. Adding a `NSMutableAttributedString` to the text field's `attributedString` seems to give me the results I want, but when I set the attributed string in code it does not have the formatting that is in the rest of the UITextField, it just has the raw text. Here's my code, in case it's useful to anyone: -

(id)initWithFrame:(CGRect)frame { self = [super initWithFrame:frame]; if (self) { // Initialization code /*!
```
